Key Takeaways

Integrated container racks in Belgium include modular steel IBC racks, pallet racks, and specialized flat racks for industrial and warehouse storage, offered by local manufacturers like Belrack, Palraco, and Continental Rack. Types of Container Racks1.

IB

C (Intermediate Bulk Container) Racks These are simple steel structures designed to support and elevate intermediate bulk containers, allowing gravity-fed discharge or pump-assisted transfer. Standard configurations typically hold 2, 3, 4, or 6 containers, with custom arrangements available. They are widely used in food processing, beverage production, and chemical storage for safe and efficient handling of liquids and particulates up to 20mm in size (Tetra Pak).

2. Pallet and Modular Steel Racks Belgian suppliers like Palraco and Belrack provide modular pallet racks and steel shelving systems. These racks are designed for heavy-duty storage, offering adjustable configurations, easy access, and high visibility of stored goods.
