Compatible DML coherent optical modules UAE supplier

Overview

The analysis is structured to be adaptable to any United Arab Emirates (UAE) Coherent Process Optics Module Market while providing actionable, region-specific insights.

Key Takeaways

You can source compatible DML coherent optical modules in the UAE through international suppliers like Lumentum and Coherent, or via verified UAE B2B platforms such as Abraa.

International Suppliers

Lumentum manufactures high-performance directly-modulated lasers (DMLs) suitable for coherent optical modules.

Their DM

Ls are based on distributed feedback (DFB) diode lasers and support multiple data rates and wavelengths, including 10G, 25G, and 100G applications for QSFP28 and SFP28 modules. These lasers are designed for high-reliability applications, with options for CWDM, LR4, and BiDi configurations, and operate across industrial temperature ranges. Coherent provides a broad range of coherent optical components, including modulators, IQ modulators, and optical assemblies for high-bandwidth, phase-modulated signals.

Their products support M-QAM, M-PSK, and custom modulation formats, making them suitable for DWDM systems, coherent receivers, and optical modulation analyzers. Coherent also emphasizes high reliability and supply chain stability, which is critical for industrial and telecom deployments. UAE-Based Sourcing OptionsFor local procurement, Abraa.com is a verified B2B platform in the UAE where suppliers are physically inspected.

It allows buyers to source optical components from both local and international vendors with secure payment options. While Abraa does not list specific DML coherent modules by default, it is a reliable channel to connect with distributors or resellers who can supply Lumentum or Coherent modules in the UAE.

Recommendations

Contact Lumentum or Coherent directly to inquire about authorized distributors or shipping options to the UAE. Both companies provide technical support to ensure module compatibility with your coherent optical systems. Use Abraa.com to identify UAE-based suppliers or resellers who can provide DML coherent modules, ensuring verified quality and secure transactions.

Verify module specifications such as wavelength, data rate, and modulation format to ensure compatibility with your existing coherent optical network. By combining direct international sourcing with verified UAE B2B platforms, you can secure high-quality DML coherent optical modules with reliable delivery and technical support.
