Key Takeaways

Budget-friendly cable trays are available in plastic, PVC, wire mesh, and metal options, typically ranging from $2 to $30 per tray depending on size and material.

Affordable Options and Materials

Plastic and PVC TraysLightweight, corrosion-resistant, and easy to cut to size. Ideal for light cable loads and home office setups. Prices range from $2 to $10 per foot for small trays or under-desk organizers (Target, Walmart).

Wire Mesh Trays

Provide good airflow and flexibility for irregular power adapters. Suitable for data centers or office setups with multiple cables. Cost is typically $2 to $6 per foot, offering a balance of durability and affordability.

Steel or Aluminum Trays

Stronger and more durable, capable of supporting heavy power strips. Steel ladder trays: $3 to $5 per foot; aluminum trays: $4 to $7 per foot. Best for long-term installations or heavier equipment.
