Key Takeaways

Trapezoidal cable trays in Nepal typically cost between NPR 1,500 to NPR 5,000 per meter, depending on material, size, and finish.

Price Factors

Material: Cable trays can be made from galvanized steel, stainless steel (SS-202/304/316), aluminum, or PVC. Stainless steel and powder-coated trays are more expensive than GI or PVC options. Size and Thickness: The width, height, and thickness of the tray affect the price.

Standard widths range from 40mm to 1000mm, and thicknesses from 1. 2mm to 3mm. Larger and thicker trays cost more.

Finish: Options like hot-dip galvanization, pre-galvanization, or powder coating influence durability and price. Supplier and Brand: Prices vary between suppliers such as Hutaib Electricals, Vaishno Storage Solution, and Jeetmull Jaichandlall, with local manufacturers often offering more competitive rates. Quantity and Customization: Bulk orders or custom lengths may reduce per-meter cost, while specialized trapezoidal designs may increase it.
