Key Takeaways

Several Palestinian companies manufacture and supply electrical distribution boxes, including modular, outdoor, and photovoltaic types, with key players like Palestinian Distribution and Logistics Services (WASSEL) and local modular enclosure providers. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers1. Palestinian Distribution and Logistics Services (WASSEL) WASSEL is a major Palestinian company listed on the Palestine Securities Exchange.

It provides integrated logistics and distribution services and is involved in supplying electrical distribution solutions, including standard and modular distribution boxes for residential, commercial, and industrial applications. 2. Local Modular Electrical Enclosure Providers Several Palestinian companies specialize in modular electrical enclosures, power distribution boxes, and outdoor control cabinets.

These products are designed for durability, safety, and flexibility, often featuring pre-wired components, IP65/NEMA 4/4X protection, and compliance with IEC/UL standards. These solutions are suitable for disaster recovery, construction, and industrial applications. 3.

Proof Distribution Box Suppliers For industrial and high-risk environments, Palestinian manufacturers offer explosion-proof distribution boxes, catering to sectors requiring enhanced safety and compliance with hazardous area standards.

Additional Notes

Many Palestinian manufacturers emphasize modular and customizable designs, allowing for quick installation, expansion, and integration of components like circuit breakers, metering systems, and busbars. The largest electricity distribution companies in Palestine, such as the Jerusalem District Electricity Company (JDECO), often source distribution boxes from these local manufacturers to support the regional power network. These manufacturers provide solutions that meet international safety standards, ensuring protection against moisture, dust, and electrical hazards, which is critical for both urban and remote installations.

In summary, Palestinian electrical distribution boxes are produced by a combination of logistics-focused companies like WASSEL, specialized modular enclosure providers, and suppliers of photovoltaic and explosion-proof systems, offering a range of solutions for residential, commercial, and industrial power distribution needs.
