Pricing Details

Desertcart Listing: A 100x68x50mm IP66-rated ABS plastic waterproof junction box is priced around $18–$25 USD, with the price covering product cost, international shipping, import duties, customs clearance, and local delivery to Angola. Delivery typically takes 3–9 business days, and the order is fully trackable. Material and Protection: These boxes are made of flame-retardant ABS, UV and corrosion-resistant, and provide IP66 dust and water protection, suitable for both indoor and outdoor electrical installations.

Alternative Options: Other series like AT and HT series offer IP65–IP68 protection, DIN rail compatibility, and larger internal space for more complex wiring setups. Prices for these may vary depending on size, configuration, and bulk orders, generally ranging from $20 to $50 USD for standard models. Considerations for PurchaseIP Rating: Ensure the box meets your environmental requirements (IP65 for water jets, IP66 for heavy rain, IP68 for submersion).

Size and Capacity: Choose a box that accommodates your wiring, terminals, and any DIN rail components. Shipping and Customs: Ordering from international platforms like Desertcart includes customs clearance, so there are no hidden fees upon delivery. Bulk Orders: For larger projects, contacting suppliers directly (e.g., SinoBreaker or Andeli Group) may provide custom sizing and volume discounts.

In summary, for a typical waterproof distribution box suitable for Angolan conditions, expect to pay around $18–$25 USD for a compact IP66 model, with higher-capacity or specialized boxes costing more depending on features and size.
