Where are lc fiber optic adapters used

Overview

LC (Lucent Connector) is the world's dominant duplex optical interface, used across enterprise networks, telecom infrastructure, and especially data centers. This guide provides a fully updated and industry-ready overview of LC fiber optics, explaining the origin and design of LC connectors, their key features, and the complete ecosystem of LC-based products used in modern networking. They do not transmit signals, amplify power, or process data. Even as 400G/800G parallel-optics and MPO-based high-density solutions grow, LC remains essential for 10G/25G/50G/100G/200G/400G duplex. LC fiber connectors, as the most well-known representative of SFF (Small Form Factor) connector, are widely adopted in today's LAN and data center cabling.
