The X-

Tray system features the longest bracket distance in the market, enabling faster installation with fewer components, which reduces labor costs.

Installation and Service

Ease of installation is a key factor in NWT's reputation. Their trays are designed for quick assembly, often requiring only M8 bolts and minimal tools. Small parts are delivered in organized bags to streamline installation, and the company provides expert guidance to ensure optimal system performance.

Fast delivery is supported by a well-stocked standard range, ensuring projects can proceed without delays. Industry RecognitionNWT is considered a premium Nordic manufacturer, often highlighted in European industry guides for its reliability, product longevity, and compliance with rigorous standards. Their focus on customer-specific solutions, high-quality materials, and continuous product testing contributes to their strong reputation in the Nordic and broader European markets.

In summary, for projects in the Nordic region requiring high-quality, customizable, and reliable cable trays, Nordic Wire Tray (NWT) is widely regarded as the manufacturer with the best reputation. Their combination of premium products, ease of installation, and strong customer support makes them a preferred choice for industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects.
