Which company makes the optical switch

Overview

Explore list of the top Optical Switches companies based on extensive research conducted by Mordor Intelligence analysts and expert advisors.

Key Takeaways

Some leading optical switch companies include DiCon Fiberoptics, Viavi Solutions, Clairex Technologies, Finisar (II-VI Incorporated), Lumentum, and Cisco.

Top Optical Switch Manufacturers

Several companies are recognized as leaders in the optical switch market due to their technology, product range, and market presence: DiCon Fiberoptics – Specializes in high-performance optical switches for telecommunications and test applications, including MEMS and mechanical switches. Viavi Solutions, Inc. – Offers optical switching solutions for network testing, monitoring, and high-speed communications. Clairex Technologies, Inc. – Provides optical switches for laboratory, industrial, and telecom applications.

Finisar (now II-VI Incorporated) – Develops advanced optical switch technologies for data centers and high-speed networks. Lumentum – Focuses on optical networking solutions, including low-latency and silicon photonics switches. Cisco – Offers carrier-grade optical switches for data centers and long-haul networks, integrating software-defined networking (SDN) capabilities.

Additional Notable Suppliers

Other companies active in the optical switch market include: Nexus and NCS series vendors – Known for data-center optical switching and silicon photonics innovations.

Opti

Xaccess and OSN series providers – Focused on carrier-grade optical switches with global deployment. Various smaller suppliers – RP Photonics lists 39 suppliers offering optical switches for applications ranging from quantum networking to laser pulse generation.

Market Insights

The optical switch market is dynamic, with companies competing on technology leadership, product portfolio breadth, cost competitiveness, and geographical presence. Key technologies include MEMS-based switches, mechanical optical switches, and silicon photonics switches, each suited for different applications such as telecommunications, data centers, test and measurement, and quantum networking. These companies represent a mix of established giants and innovative startups, providing a wide range of optical switching solutions for high-speed, low-latency, and specialized applications.
